

NEWS

June 5, 2008

CONTACT:

Danette LaChapelle
Vice President of Marketing
iQ Credit Union
360-992-4242
danettel@iqcu.com

iQ CREDIT UNION OFFERS YOUTH VISA WORKSHOP TO TEACH FINANCIAL LITERACY

VANCOUVER, Wash — iQ Credit Union is hosting a Youth Visa workshop for teenagers ages 15-17 to learn how to use credit in a safe environment, under parental supervision. The workshop will be held on Saturday, June 21, 2008 from 10 am to 1 pm at iQ Credit Union's Hazel Dell office at 305 NE 81st Street.

"Financial literacy is critical for young people," said Roger Michaelis, iQ Credit Union CEO. "Teenagers need to learn why good credit is important and how to make educated and informed financial decisions. This workshop teaches a real world working knowledge of daily finances; these are lessons that will serve them well as they prepare for college and the rest of their lives."

Participating students will complete two free financial workshops that teach the responsibility of money management and how the credit process works. Attendance is open to non-credit union members, although only members will receive an application for a low-limit, entry-level credit card. For more information and to sign up, call Member Services at 360-695-3441.

About iQ Credit Union

iQ Credit Union has provided members with intelligent financial services that deliver unbeatable value since 1940. The Credit Union helps business members make smarter banking decisions to maximize their finances and enjoy life's journey. The Credit Union is a member of the CO-OP Network giving members access to over 25,000 ATMs nationwide for free. With several business checking options, free bill payer and free online access, members can have access to their accounts 24/7. Now, anyone in Washington can make the switch to iQ Credit Union. Come on in. Let us help your business grow. For more information, visit www.iqcu.com.

###